Why choose BPP Learning Media?

Our product offering

BPP Learning Media is the publishing arm of BPP. As well as producing materials for our own courses ranging across subject areas such as accountancy, tax, law, medicine and marketing, we sell to around 150 countries across the globe.

This Publications Catalogue tells you all about our different types of publications and how our materials have been tailored to suit your requirements and your students' need for world-class learning resources. But there's more to BPP...

We have also released our Tuition Provider Solutions brochure which lets you find out about our educational services for your institution including Tutor Resources and Tutor Training. Contact your Commercial Manager for more details (see page 48).

Our expert authors

We owe the world-renowned quality of BPP Learning Media study materials and resources to our authors.

We have a team of around 30 in-house subject matter experts, each dedicated to a particular range according to their qualifications, interests and industry experience. Many are ex-examiners with direct experience working alongside professional bodies and examining boards, while others have a background in hands-on classroom tuition.

Collectively, they have a great knowledge of educational and professional practice and a clear understanding of industry requirements, the professional bodies whose qualifications they write for and, perhaps most importantly, you and your need for world-class teaching resources which get results time and time again.

Study materials for every learning style

The materials we produce for your students always meet the criteria set by awarding bodies for exam and syllabus content.

We understand the key to effective learning is to allow students to access information in the manner which best suits them. Some are visual learners, some are auditory learners and others prefer to gather information through practical examples.

We have developed different suites of materials to support these personal preferences. So alongside traditional core Study Texts, you'll also find materials such as i-Pass and Practice & Revision Kits. See our product glossary on page 10.

By tailoring these materials to specific learning styles, we have created a suite of resources that not only develop a deeper understanding of the topic, but also aid learning retention.

ACCA Approved F5-F9 CBE Practice Tests

In September 2016, ACCA launched Computer Based Exams for F5-F9 papers. These will be rolled out globally over a number of years with paper exams initially running in parallel while they are introduced. December 2017 will see the final sitting of paper F5-F9 exams for the first wave of markets, namely China, Dubai, Czech Republic, Hungary, Ireland, Pakistan, Slovakia, Sri Lanka and the UK.

Existing study materials

BPP's ACCA Practice & Revision Kit continues to support students regardless of which exam they choose, providing question practice for both exam types

BPP's ACCA i-Pass continues to support CBE students primarily with the opportunity to attempt Objective Test Questions (OTQs) and Objective Test Case Questions (OT Cases) in a replica environment, with auto marking and comprehensive feedback.

New materials

From May 2017, BPP are proud to launch ACCA Approved F5-F9 CBE Practice Tests. ACCA students will be able to purchase a complete ACCA F5-F9 CBE mock exam, created using BPP's replica ACCA exam software allowing them to attempt a CBE mock on a platform mimicking the real exam environment, with auto marked OTs and comprehensive marking guidance and solutions throughout.

Medical Series

BPP University School of Health publishes an expanding range of titles, intentionally broadly based and aimed at a wide spectrum of readers across the medical and healthcare professions. These range from students making those critical career shaping decisions through to doctors moving into their specialist areas and developing their professional skills.

We continue to develop our ranges of titles in the areas where we have hitherto been most active. These include career development, medical school application, revision guides for medical students and doctors together with professional and clinical titles to aid medical career progression. In addition to the traditional print editions of our titles, all titles are now being made available in eBook formats to increase their accessibility.

We are delighted to announce collaborations with two of the most respected and long established names in our field. We now represent in the British Isles and Europe the growing range of titles in the field of primary care published by the Royal College of General Practitioners. We are also now publishing a range of books in collaboration with the British Medical Journal (BMJ). This range consists of four new series based on cutting edge content supplied by the BMJ; 'Clinical Review', 'Easily Missed', 'Research Methods and Reporting' and 'Ten Minute Consultations'. These titles provide a comprehensive and quality resource for every stage of an individual's medical career. The BMJ titles are assured to offer up to date and easily accessible reference materials useful to those working at all levels in the profession.

We are always very receptive to hearing from individuals and institutions to discuss work and research in progress which could be suitable for inclusion in our future publishing plans. Likewise, inspection copies of our key text books are available for those teaching or administering relevant programmes and considering recommending our titles for course adoptions, and we are always happy to negotiate special prices on bulk purchases of our publications.

A small selection of our titles is presented in these pages. For the full range please go to our website and online catalogue www.bppuniversity.ac.uk/medicalseries
