

About

Qualified lawyers or accountants with more than five year's post-qualifying experience and who meet the scheme's entry requirements can take the fast track professional route through CSQS.

This entitles you to exemptions from all but two CSQS modules.

Entry

To apply for the fast track professional route, you must have been qualified for five years or more and have five years appropriate post-qualifying experience.

Qualified accountants must also be a current member of one of the following major accountancy bodies:

- Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales (ICAEW)
- Institute of Chartered Accountants of Scotland (ICAS)
- Institute of Chartered Accountants in Ireland (ICAI)
- Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA)
- Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA)
- Chartered Institute of Public Finance and Accountancy (CIPFA).

Qualified lawyers must be a current member of the Bar or Law Society for your jurisdiction or compliant with the Qualified Lawyers Transfer Regulations.

Content

As a fully qualified lawyer or accountant, you will already have the expert company and commercial experience required. Therefore the fast track professional route only requires you to take two of the eight CSQS modules at level two:

- Corporate secretarial practice - examines the role of the Chartered Secretary in promoting and reinforcing good governance across an organisation through compliance with statutory obligations.
- Chartered secretary's case study - this module draws on knowledge from all the syllabuses of the other seven modules, demonstrating mastery of the content of CSQS and application of the required knowledge and skills to a business case example.

You do not have to apply for exemptions of the other six CSQS modules if you opt to take the fast track professional route.
